

Innovation in Construction

Who We Are

MTX are a UK construction and engineering company serving clients within the food and drink industry.

Working nationally we provide specialist planning, design, project management and construction services to create innovative manufacturing environments for food and drink processing, storage and distribution.

With more than thirty years experience in this sector we have extensive knowledge of constructing environments which require a high level of coordination and specialist attention to detail. We are proud to have gained an enviable reputation to consistently meet customer expectations in terms of safety, programme, budget, design and quality.

What we do

With expertise across the full spectrum of cold storage construction, building services engineering and refrigeration we are well positioned to provide our customers unrivalled national support from conception, design, construction, engineering and installation through to commissioning and validation.

Insulated Construction

Using superior quality insulated panels, MTX can provide temperature controlled hygienic environments throughout the UK. From cold stores, cold rooms, packaging facilities, food processing environments in addition to large distribution warehouses MTX has the complete knowledge to deliver a turn key product.

Refrigeration

We have built a positive reputation throughout the UK providing our customers with unrivalled, robust and energy efficient refrigeration systems.

- Chilled Water Installations
- Direct Expansion Systems
- Heat Pump Refrigeration Systems
- Air Conditioning Systems
- Secondary Refrigeration Systems
- Refrigeration System Energy Management

Mechanical and Electrical Services Engineering

Our partnering style ensures we work in parallel with your own managers and engineers to bring 'best in class' mechanical and electrical engineering solutions to the most complex requirements considering capital and whole life costs.

Mechanical

- Heating and Ventilation
- Air-Conditioning
- Refrigeration
- Compressed air systems

- Control systems
- Fire extinguishing
- Renewable energy

Electrical

- HV and LV distribution
- Internal and external lighting
- Emergency lighting
- Uninterruptible power systems
- Fire alarm
- Security/CCTV/Door Access

Service and Maintenance

We offer a range of service and maintenance options that will ensure all of your investment is well maintained and continues to be fit for purpose.

- 24 hour emergency service response guarantee
- All inclusive customer support and maintenance agreement

- Hourly fee maintenance
- Parts and components

Whether you are looking for long-term refrigeration service and maintenance contract or a one-off repair, MTX can provide a comprehensive service and maintenance service for all your cold store, refrigeration and building services requirements.

Working Safely

We are committed to maintaining our excellent health and safety record. Striving to be accident and incident free is one of our key goals.

Throughout our business there is a clear commitment to developing a proactive safety culture through appropriate and specialist training.

Supported by recognised health and safety professionals we set clear targets and objectives to ensure that high standards of health and safety are integrated into everything we do.

Sustainability

The forward thinking of our team extends to the environment. The construction of energy efficient systems and environmentally friendly construction techniques are a fundamental part of our business.

We are committed to ensuring our clients meet their sustainability challenges by providing support and advice from consulting and planning, design and construction through to post contract maintenance and support.

What our clients said:

“I found MTX and their team open and very professional during the tender and implementation phase of our project. They had the appropriate expertise in designing, developing and delivering a substantial project and were very organized and methodical in their approach to the works.

Whenever unanticipated problems arose, they were good with ideas and resourceful at accessing the right solution. The overall quality of their works has been excellent and I can confirm without hesitation that together we have delivered a state of the art fresh produce production and distribution facility.

Our customers and key partners are very impressed with the final result”.

Parveen Mehta – Operations Director for Minor Weir and Willis LTD

Accreditations, Certifications and Affiliations

Contact us

0345 130 9639

info@mtx.co.uk

www.mtxfresh.co.uk

@mtxfresh

MTX Contracts Ltd

Innovation House

Brooke Court

Lower Meadow Road

Wilmslow

Cheshire SK9 3ND

